In order to help eliminate confusion and improve race day procedures, the following changes will be implemented for the next race at SLMP on August 13.

1. The qualifying grid will be set by the number you have pulled. Competitors will no longer be permitted to choose to enter the track last. The only exception is due to mechanical problems.
2. All competitors will now be required to have their transponder installed for race day practice. This procedure will permit the scorers to ensure all the transponders are hitting as well as ensure all the competitors in the class are accounted for.
3. Results of the qualifying, pre-final and final sessions will not be posted until all matters affecting the outcome of the session have been accounted for. i.e. scales, tech, protests etc. The results will reflect any adjustments made to the standings.
